Rummage Sale.

During the week begining March 30th, the Tennessee table is to hold a "rum-mage sale" at No. 1901 East Main Stree, The store secured for the purpose is in a district where these sales are immensely popular and of great benefit to the people who patronize them. The ladies in charge of the enterprise have the satisfaction of knowing that their work is not only profitable to their own ends, over-worked mothers and poverty-burdened fathers of families, who by its means are enabled to buy ready-made clothes, shoes, stockings, hats, and many other articles of necessity as well as of pleasure, at merely nominal prices. Many needy people, who for all their poverty are unwilling to beg, are in this way helped to supply their wants without loss of independence.

If those interested in the work and willing to contribute cost of various kinds to add to the interest and profit of the sale, will give their names to any member of the Tennessee committee, their packages will be called for.

Easter Weddings.

From present indications there will be more than the usual number of Easter weddings in Richmond. None of these will excite more widespread interest than that of Miss Louise Allen Mayo, who is to be married to Mr. Burton Gay, of Baltimore, the last week in April.

The wedding will take place in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George W. Mayo, and the wedding company will be restricted to the immediate families and nearest friends of Miss Mayo and Mr. Gay,

Mr. Gay,

The prospective bride is a typical representative of what is fairest and most gracious in Virginia womanhood, and Richmond's loss in her case, will certainly mean Baltimore's great gain. Mr. ly mean Baltimore's great gain. Mr. Gay is connected with one of the most important electrical companies in the United States, and is a member of several of the best known Baltimore clubs. Bryan Day Nursery and Free Kindergarten decided at its last meeting to have a donation day, and appointed Friday, March 20th. This step is particularly urgent since the City Council has withdrawn its former appropriations.

Knowing the imperative need of supplies of every kind, the citizens of Richmond are asked for assistance in any way. Donations of food, fuel, clothing and money are asked. There is no worthier charity in the city of Richmond none lore far-reaching in its influence for good and none more wholly dependent on the people's charity.

The Home at Nineteenth and Grace Streets will be open on the 20th of March from 10 A, M. to 6 P, M., and in he name of those who labor so arduousfor the sustainance of this work an nest appeal is made. No gift can too small to be appreciated, and none 150 large.

AUTHOR TO LECTURE AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Richmond Education Association has been fortunate in securing the promise of a lecture from Miss Susan Blow, author of "Symbolic Education," "Letters to a Mother," and "The Study of Dante."

of Dante."
Miss Blow is one of the leading educations of the world and an unusually delightful and inspiring lecturer.
Her talk on the "Ideal of Nurtura" will be held at the Woman's Club Wednesday, March 25th, at 8:30 P. M.
The public are cordially invited, and Soft Crabs, Crab Meat, and Stumpf's (own make) Deviled Crabs, at Stumpf's Restaurant, corner Eighth and Main Streets.

it is hoped that a large audience worthy of the eminence of the lecturer will be present.
